"Dirt on Your Hands, Soil in the Garden"

With Betty Sanders, Master Gardener

The secret behind a green thumb is often the most overlooked aspect of gardening—the soil we plant in. Few of us start with great soil, but we can all build it. By using gardening methods which improve rather than hurt the soil, with an emphasis on turning kitchen and garden waste into compost, the Black Gold of gardens, Betty will show how you can create great gardens from the ground up.
